SEVERNDALE SPECIALIST ACADEMY | NEWSLETTER 20.07.2022

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Hello Parents and Carers

I am writing this today on our last day of the academic year and also the final day of my first year at Severndale. I wanted to take this opportunity to thank all parents and carers for your support and also challenge this year as this has contributed to the academy becoming a better place for our young people. Earlier in the year we asked parents and carers about the key things that we could do better in supporting our families and communication was the biggest area of improvement, both from an academy to home perspective and also individual class to home perspective. As with all things we do we have worked hard on this but it always could be better but I just wanted to share the response from our most recent parent survey regarding these areas.

68% of parents feel that communication has improved this year between class and home
90% of parents feel better informed about the academy this year
99% of parents feel that their son or daughter is happy at Severndale Academy

As we move into next year we will continue to develop our approach to communication with families as well as supporting the development of communication for pupils too. We will also focus more on the EHCP targets and the wider development of pupils and this will involve the development of parent and carer training and support opportunities and more parental involvement in the academy. We are launching our phonics and reading strategy from September and enhancing the skills and knowledge further of our staff. Our playgrounds are being redeveloped in the summer break and we will then develop the use of 'play' in the building. We are working with the local authority to look at activities beyond the academy day and link with organisations to begin to develop more activities for SEND young people in the community too.

Essentially we will continue to 'Enable communication, independence and enjoyment for life' and we see our relationships with parents and carers as being integral to this work.

Update on Action For Children Summer

Following the announcement by Action for Children last week regarding reducing the days I know that Tanya Burton (Director of People at Shropshire County Council) has been working hard to address this situation. Severndale staff have put themselves forward to work and support some of the gaps in staffing and we just wanted parents and carers to be aware that there is a lot of work going on to resolve this problem.

RELAUNCH OF TWITTER ACCOUNT FOR SEVERNDALE

We are very aware that our academy presence on social media could be improved and become more current. Many of our parents and carers use social media and we need to move with the times and provide more academy content via these channels. We have re-launched our Severndale academy Twitter site today and we will continue to use this to share academy news and also useful links and connections. Our first post is described below and please follow the link to access our pupil voice activity in response to the SEND green paper. It is amazingly powerful!

Our twitter account is @severndaleacad

Severndale and local authority PUPIL VOICE response to the SEND green paper

The Government is committed to improving outcomes for children and young people with SEND and those in alternative provision and are seeking views on their green paper 'SEND Review: Right Support, Right Place, Right Time' about the changes they want to make.

To achieve this ambition, the Government want to work with and hear from:

children and young people
parents and carers
those who advocate and work with the SEND sector
local and national system leaders

We have collaborated with the SEN Team at Shropshire Council to produce a Vox Pops style video which captures the views of some of our amazing students! 'Vox populi' is a Latin phrase that literally means "voice of the people" and what could be more important to a consultation on SEND than the voice of our students?

Here is a link to the video: https://rb.gy/e4zl0q

The questions raised came out of discussions with students, Talking Mats sessions and other non-verbal communication strategies facilitated by our wonderful staff and their close relationships with their students.

Please follow and retweet us @SeverndaleAcad on Twitter to ensure that our students' voices are heard nationally!

It now only leaves me to wish you all a lovely summer break and a reminder that pupils return to the academy on;

19.07.22 LCT Update to all Parents and Carers

Dear Parents and Carers,

This is my last letter of the school year and I just wanted to bring it to a close by writing to you.

It has been another challenging year as I reflect on all the Covid disruption of the autumn and spring term which now feels a long time ago. We really struggled with staffing levels for weeks with staff illness and we had lots of children and young people unwell and isolating. I am incredibly proud that we kept all schools open and had only to close some classes in our Special Schools when we felt we simply did not have sufficient staff.

Our staff have been truly amazing, whatever their role in our schools, they have gone above and beyond doing extra duties, covering lessons, running interventions and catch-up programmes but also in their fantastic support of our young people to make a school as good as it could possibly be day in day out. I cannot thank them enough for their hard work, enthusiasm and support this year.

We have had some great Ofsted inspections and SATs results; the GCSE results will be out in August and Y11 really did their very best in a long exam period.

It has been great to see all the trips and visits return, the performances, and the shows as well as Sports Days and Duke of Edinburgh expeditions.

All our academies have improved and developed under excellent leadership this year, they are all full and many oversubscribed for September, we have admitted more students in secondary to deal with a bulge in Y6 numbers this year in Telford. The Trust has grown, we will be welcoming two new schools next year with interest from others as LCT's reputation spreads, but we will always remain committed to schools in our community. The Department of Education are delighted with our progress, and I receive many positive comments from them and Telford and Wrekin Council about the work we do.

It has been very hot in the last two days, but we are requested by DfE to stay open – many parents are working, have no childcare and we have ensured we do everything to keep everyone as cool and hydrated as possible as well as reviewing activities and breaks. By tomorrow it will be significant cooler, but it may be part of the future dealing with hotter summers.

Finally, I would like to take this opportunity to thank parents and carers for all your support during the year and to wish you and your family a lovely summer holiday.

Kind Regards,

G. M. Eatough

SUPER HERO

Pippa has recently been in the sensory inclusion newsletter after receiving an Andrew Broughton award. Pippa was awarded her prize by Mary Brotherton, Teacher of Deaf.

Pippa has had a difficult year in that her hearing band rubbed against the site of her shunt which caused an infection which needed treatment in hospital. She was extremely poorly for a while, but rather than give up on her hearing band she was determined to help us to find a solution for her, and tried various different hearing aids until we found the right sort on an Alice band. She was very patient in allowing me to measure up for this for Mark to make the band in her favourite colour. She is always a delight to work with, being chatty and happy no matter what is asked of her. In school she has some really lovely friendships and she works hard to do her best both in lessons and with her friends. She shows remarkable resilience – well done Pippa!

ICE CREAM VAN

This week our pupils across the Academy, enjoyed a refreshing ice cream from the Ice Cream van.

Child Exploitation in Shropshire
How to recognise if your child may be being exploited, and what you can do to help reduce the risks
Shropshire Council

What is Exploitation?

Are you concerned about changes in your child's behaviour? Have you noticed that they may be feeling under pressure from influences from outside your family home? Realising that your child could be being exploited can be distressing, but help and support is available.

Exploitation is a form of abuse, it occurs where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child, young person or adult into any activity that results in an advantage for the perpetrator. Specific types of Exploitation include Sexual Exploitation, Criminal Exploitation, and Financial Exploitation.

Who does it affect?

Exploitation can happen to any young person from any background, in any part of the country - including Shropshire. The young person often isn't aware that they are a victim, as exploiters are very clever in the way they manipulate the young person into trusting them.

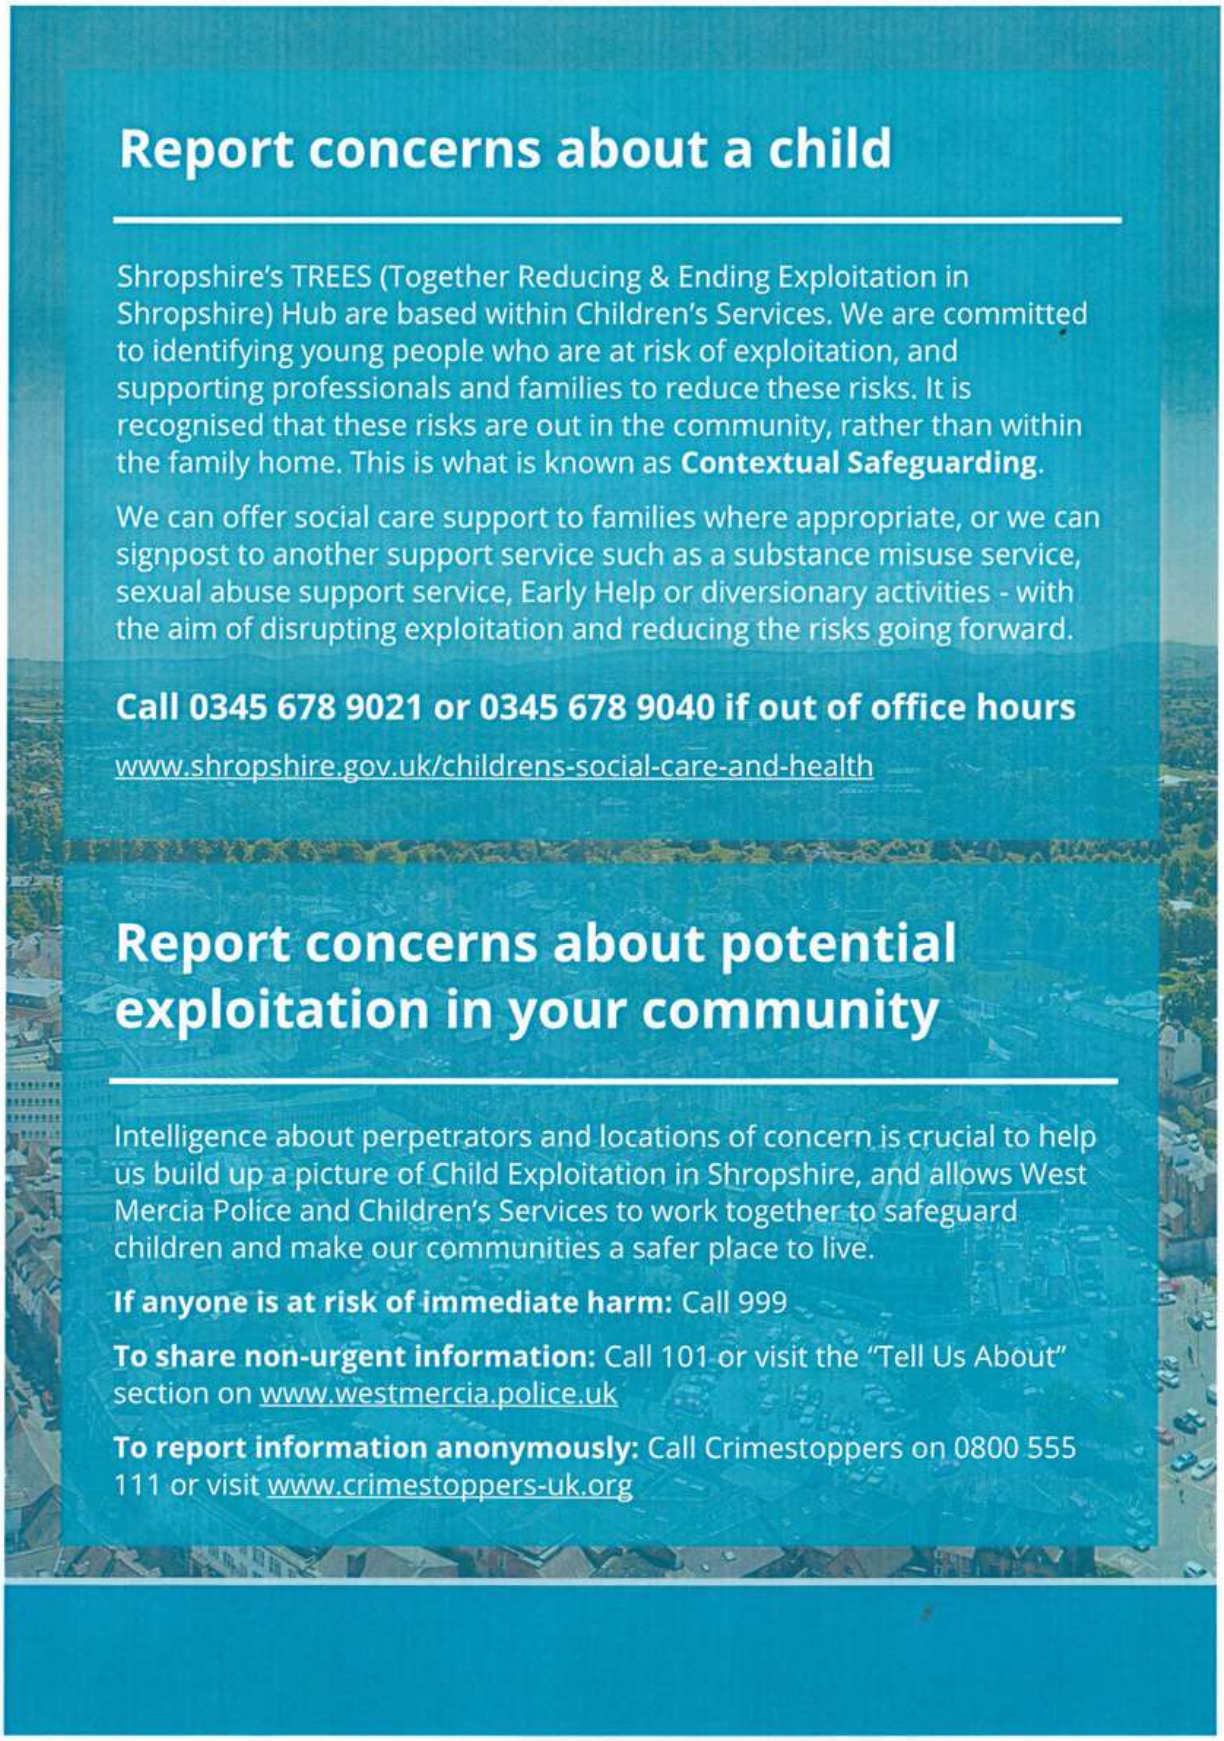
What are the signs?

- New friendship groups, who may be older in age
- Engaging in sexual activity, including exchanging indecent photos
- Missing episodes, when you don't know their whereabouts
- Spending less time at home and distancing from previous friends
- Receiving gifts & rewards
- Increased secretiveness
- Disengagement from school & hobbies
- Use of drugs or alcohol, perhaps without the means to afford this
- A decline in mental health, possibly becoming more aggressive
- Possession of a weapon
- Committing low level crimes

What can I do as a parent or carer?

- ☑ Discuss differences between healthy and unhealthy friendships and relationships
- ☑ Stay alert to any changes in behaviour which may indicate that they are feeling under pressure
- ☑ Carefully monitor any episodes of staying out late or not returning home
- ☑ Be aware of who they are spending time with and encourage them to keep in touch by texting you when they are out in the community
- ☑ Report them missing if you do not know where they are
- ☑ Talk openly to your child about keeping safe and listen calmly if they confide in you
- ☑ Regularly check the young person's possessions for drugs and any unexplained money or gifts
- ☑ Install online safety features and apps
- ☑ Check in with parents of their friends
- ☑ Be cautious of any older friends or friendships where there appears to be a power imbalance
- ☑ Check in with school or college to see if they have noticed any changes in behaviour
- ☑ Share your concerns with school staff or Children's Services
- ☑ Take a look at our CE Directory to find out about other support available:

https://www.shropshire.gov.uk/media/21754/ce-directory.pdf



Report concerns about a child
Shropshire's TREES (Together Reducing & Ending Exploitation in Shropshire) Hub are based within Children's Services. We are committed to identifying young people who are at risk of exploitation, and supporting professionals and families to reduce these risks. It is recognised that these risks are out in the community, rather than within the family home. This is what is known as Contextual Safeguarding.
We can offer social care support to families where appropriate, or we can signpost to another support service such as a substance misuse service, sexual abuse support service, Early Help or diversionary activities - with the aim of disrupting exploitation and reducing the risks going forward.

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about
MINECRAFT
AGE RATING 7+
Minecraft is a beloved classic of modern gaming. First released in 2011, this open-ended 'sandbox' game of building and exploration still has over 140 million players who happily return to play it at least once every month. Minecraft has also been utilised for much more than just entertainment: it's sometimes used in schools to teach children coding, and it's also employed as a tool for computer-aided design, which is another valuable skill. Encouraging creativity and problem solving, Minecraft has plenty to offer gamers of all ages, and it's available on almost all video game platforms.
WHAT ARE THE RISKS?
PUBLIC SERVERS
Joining a public network (called a server) lets your child potentially interact with strangers through text chat. Some servers focus on building, while others are dedicated to role-playing – encouraging direct player interaction. Anyone can join public servers and connecting to one is relatively simple. Public server IP addresses (and therefore someone's location) are easy to find with search engines.
SCARY ELEMENTS
The visual design and gameplay of Minecraft is purposefully child friendly, so there's nothing too untoward in the game. However, some of the 'baddies' that can be encountered might prove a little too scary for very young players. In the game, certain enemies come out at night and are accompanied by audio – such as zombie moans and skeleton bone rattles – that may unnerve young ones.
GRIEFING
Some people in Minecraft delight in purposefully damaging or destroying another player's creation. This is called 'griefing' and is a form of bullying: it intentionally spoils someone else's experience in the game by deleting hours of their work and forcing them to start from scratch. Many public servers treat griefing as a severe offence and frequently ban offenders.
TNT
ADDITIONAL PURCHASES
After initially buying the game, players can make optional extra purchases for cosmetic items and other bonuses. Minecraft Realms is an optional online subscription (requiring regular payments) that lets users run a multiplayer server to play with their friends. Most games consoles also need an active subscription to enable online play – so online gaming can quickly become an expensive hobby.
ADDICTIVENESS
Minecraft's gameplay is relatively simple, and the outcome (when a child has built something new, for instance) can be extremely gratifying. This can make the game highly addictive. It's easy to lose track of time while playing Minecraft, causing committed young players to forget about other activities like homework or enjoying family time.
TNT
Advice for Parents & Carers
RESEARCH CONTENT CREATORS
There are a lots of Minecraft content creators who release helpful videos about the game on YouTube and Twitch. Not all of these, however, are suitable for children. Watching these content creators' channels yourself first is a safe way to find appropriate Minecraft videos to share with your children. This also helps you learn more about the game itself, and how your child plays it.
CHOOSE THE RIGHT MODE
Selecting 'Creative' or 'Peaceful' mode allows children to play Minecraft without having to contend with enemies. It's also a great way for you to get used to playing the game with them, since the difficulty level is lower. This allows you to work together on a long-term project, creating something special without the threat of moaning zombies or creepers damaging your build.
HOST A PRIVATE SERVER
The easiest way to find a safe server for your child to play on is to make one yourself. Hosting a server prevents strangers from finding it, unless they've been given the necessary joining details. A private server also lets you control who's allowed to enter and – if necessary – to ban someone who shouldn't be there. This is the closest equivalent to parental controls in Minecraft.
ENCOURAGE BREAKS
It's easy for the hours to fly by while your child is playing Minecraft, so reminding them to take regular breaks is essential. This is a useful way for them to learn good time management, which they'll benefit from as they get older. It will also teach them to play their favourite games in moderation – limiting addictive behaviour and allowing them to manage their day better.
TALK ABOUT STRANGERS
At some point in their lives, almost everyone needs to have contact with a stranger online. Talking to your child about online safety, therefore, is essential – as is having a plan in place for dealing with any hostile or difficult strangers. Ensure that your child knows never to tell a stranger about themselves online, and that they should come to you straight away if they do encounter a problem.
